MURDER IN THE CITIZENS' JURY

A revolutionary change in our democratic system! Our best chance to avert the climate crisis!

Eight people in the first Citizens' Jury to have been granted full legal powers are discussing the most important challenge in the history of humanity – how to save ourselves from the looming climate crisis. Exciting new solutions are proposed, each with their own champions and detractors. What they decide will affect us all. But they all have their own issues to deal with, and one of them has a hidden agenda.

Who is the assassin and who are they there to kill?

This thought-provoking, entertaining and interactive new play also invites the audience to help the Director of Public Prosecutions with the moral dilemma of whether to prosecute the killer. If he does, it could spell the end of Citizens' Juries which many believe are the magic bullet to help us make decisions that will avert climate change.

What will you decide?

This play is a shortened adaptation of the TV series 'The Assassin' which recently won 'Writing Climate Pitchfest' and is now under consideration by Hollywood producers!

A warm welcome and licensed bar awaits you at our easy-to-find Studio Theatre.

Stairlift and disabled toilet facilities available.

There is no parking at the theatre but plenty of local car parks are available off Shirley High Street (no charge after 6pm).
